

SEMINÁRIO INTERNACIONAL

Exposome in Perspective: Linking Data, Environment, and Human Health in Brazil and Beyond

A scientific meeting to explore the frontiers of exposome science and foster international collaboration.

Data: 8 de dezembro de 2025

Horário: 3:00 PM – 5:00 PM

Local: Sala José Maria Gomes, Faculdade de Saúde Pública, Universidade de São Paulo (FSP-USP)

Link para participação remota: <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/82091283069>

AGENDA

3:00 PM | Welcome & Introduction

Dr. Thiago Nogueira, Assistant Professor, School of Public Health, USP

3:05 PM | Keynote: Linking environmental exposures to non-communicable diseases in the Netherlands

Dr. Jeroen Lakerveld, Associate Professor, Amsterdam UMC | Vice Director, Amsterdam Public Health Institute

3:35 PM | Occupational & Environmental Exposures in Brazil: an exposome perspective

Dr. Kelly Polido Kaneshiro Olympio, Associate Professor, School of Public Health | Head, Department of Environmental Health

3:50 PM | Exposome and Aging in a Changing Environment – Challenges and Opportunities for Health Surveillance in Brazil

Dr. Rafael Buralli, Assistant Professor, School of Public Health, USP

4:05 PM | Urban Nature in the Exposome Framework

Dr. Pablo Nobel, Researcher, Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai

4:20 PM | Roundtable: Charting the Future of Exposome Research in Brazil – A forward-looking dialogue on opportunities for collaboration and building research networks.

All Speakers | Moderated by Dr. Thiago Nogueira

4:50 PM | Closing Remarks

APOIO

- PPG em Saúde, Ambiente e Sustentabilidade
- PPG em Saúde Global e Sustentabilidade
- PPG em Saúde Pública
- Departamento de Saúde Ambiental
- CCNInt e CCEX – FSP/USP

IHEN

International
Human Exposome
Network